Syllabus:
Noun- Countable & Uncountable.

Scope of Syllabus:
• To understand about countable and uncountable nouns.
• To learn how to recognize countable & uncountable.
• To understand the difference between them and their rules.

Introduction:
In this chapter you will learn the concept of countable and uncountable. We will learn how to use them appropriately.

Explanation:
Common nouns are either Countable or Uncountable.
• A countable noun is the name of anything that can be counted.
Countable nouns have plural forms
• An uncountable noun is the name of anything that cannot be counted.
Example: water, milk, oil, sugar, sand, rice.
There are some rules of Countable and Uncountable nouns:

➢ Countable nouns take a, an, and many before them.
Example: a lion, an owl, many puppies
        a boy, an egg, many boys
        a girl, an apple, many teachers

➢ Countable nouns also take few, a few, a large number of before them.
Example: few girls, a few cars, a large number of glasses.

➢ Uncountable nouns take little, much, a large amount of before them.
Example: little sugar, much water, a large amount of sand.

➢ Both countable and uncountable nouns take some, a lot of before them.
Example: some books, some sugar, a lot of pencils, a lot of money.

Note: Sometimes we do use uncountable nouns in plural form. This is most commonly done with liquids and substances. It usually takes on the meaning of ‘cups of’, ‘bottle of’ or ‘type of’.
Example: We shall have two coffees. (cups of coffee)
         The company produces two leather. (types of leather)
